

Name: _____ Date: _____ Class Period: _____

★ Getting Started with Vocabulary.com ★

Join your teacher's class:

- You should have a special url from your teacher that looks like this:
<http://vocab.com/join/??????> (with the question marks replaced with a code).
- Go to that URL and follow the instructions.
- If you don't have the code, go to <https://vocabulary.com/signup/> (Then make sure to ask your teacher for the invitation link so you can join the class.)
- Identify yourself as a student, pick your country, state, and your school.

Play Vocabulary.com until you have mastered ten words, and list the words below. (You can see the words you have mastered by going to "My Progress," clicking on the "Words" tab, and then clicking on "Words I've Mastered.")

- | | |
|----------|-----------|
| 1. _____ | 6. _____ |
| 2. _____ | 7. _____ |
| 3. _____ | 8. _____ |
| 4. _____ | 9. _____ |
| 5. _____ | 10. _____ |

Check out your profile by clicking on "My Progress."

Did you level up yet? What is your current level? _____

What is your top trouble word? Write it here: _____

Visit this trouble word's dictionary page to review its meanings and usage examples. Write yourself a tip for remembering this word's meaning:

Choose one of the words you mastered this week that you think your classmates might not know and prepare to teach that word and how it is commonly used to the class. Start by looking it up in the Vocabulary.com Dictionary. Read several of the usage examples for the word and then draw some conclusions about how writers tend to use the word. Write a short paragraph explaining how to use the word to a classmate.